Regulatory Concerns with Controlled
Substances in Veterinary Settings.

Veterinary Services

Without a reverse distributor, it's difficult to efficiently handle expired, end user, recalled or damaged products. This leads to potential losses in revenue, inventory management and regulatory compliance issues.

Facility Assessment

Tailoring our services to meet the unique needs of each clinic or hospital. Your dedicated PRS representative will create personalized service plans.

"Ship-To" Service

With our cutting-edge logistics system, we offer a hassle-free and secure way for healthcare facilities to effortlessly return expired or surplus pharmaceuticals.

Compliance Resource

PRS ends the liability chain for you while keeping you in complete compliance with all DEA scheduled drug destruction regulations.

Simple Ship To _____ Service

We make reverse distribution effortless with our simple four-step process. Designed for convenience and efficiency, our service ensures that handling returns and surplus products is a breeze. Here's how it works:

Gather your returns

Collect all expired, unused, or unwanted pharmaceutical products from your inventory.

Prepare your shipment

Securely pack the gathered items into a sturdy box. Ensure the products are organized and cushioned to prevent damage during transit.

Fill out return form

Complete the simple return form included in your info kit. This form requires basic information about the items being returned, and your facility's details. Place the completed form inside the box.

Box & Ship

Attach the pre-paid shipping label provided in your info kit to the outside of the box, and schedule a pick-up at your convenience.

Advantages of PRS

In a highly regulated environment, we recognize the critical role of details in ensuring your facility's adherence to regulatory requirements.

Celebrating 40 Years of Service!
